

Reproductive Resource Center

To My Beloved Patients,

From the very first egg retrieval I personally performed in 1995, over 30 years ago, each and every day what I witness is nothing less than.... PURE MAGIC. SHEER WONDER.

In front of my very eyes, I witness molecules called hormones stimulate follicles visible by ultrasound, which yield oocytes under the microscope, then develop into embryos in the IVF lab, and months later, to childbirth and a newborn baby. I have the sincerely heartfelt honor and privilege to watch individuals transform into parents, and together, form a family of love. It never gets old. As I meet each of you face to face for the first time, I see you. I hear your unspoken cry for help: “I want to hear somebody call me Mom/ Dad.” My career helps me deliver that dream.

Thank you - all of my patients - for letting me do what I do every day. I live a dream—what a gift it is to love what I do every day.

Spring is upon us. CHANGE. Sun and warmth and buds and flowers. New life. With Mother’s and Father’s Day not long behind. In May 2026, Reproductive Resource Center will merge with, and be acquired by, Heartland Center for Reproductive Medicine and change its name from RRC to HCRM. The HCRM Team is comprised of five (yes, 5!) Reproductive Endocrinologists: Stephanie Gustin, MD, Elizabeth Constance, MD, Elizabeth Weedin, DO, Abigail Delaney, MD and Meghan Oakes, MD. HCRM has its headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, my hometownand after training in Nebraska, Texas and Massachusetts, as well as traveling all around the world, life for me seems to have come full circle.

Cheers to RRC, with heartfelt gratitude for the rich legacy we have built together, and to the incredibly bright future that lies ahead. Stay tuned as more details will be announced in the coming weeks. Moving forward, you will be in good hands, and I cannot wait, and neither should you, to see what the new team has in store!

Warmly,

Celeste Brabec, MD, FACOG (“Dr. B”)
